SYNOPSIS

Down on her luck, Quinn is lured in by a mystical creature feigning kindness. Creating a false sense of security it successfully tricks her into consuming fae delicacies, trapping her with the Creature. Quinn must decide whether she wishes to return to her life or stay, trapped with this newly found 'friend'.

Josh Hallows as The Creature

Joshua 'George' Hallows is an actor based in Staffordshire. After finishing his degree studying in Liverpool last year, he has signed with his first agency LCA Actors. He is currently touring a children's theatre production around the UK and Ireland of 'Sigurd and The Dragon'.

Jess as Quinn

Jess Brough is an Actress who studied Performing Arts at Burton and South Derbyshire College and graduated from University of Derby in 2023 with a degree in Theatre Arts. She is currently a part of Derby Shakespeare Theatre Company and is cast in Romeo and Juliet.

DIRECTOR, Amy Nuttall

As an aspiring Director of Photography, I have acquired an eye for composition having been inspired by the style of Chung-hoon Chung in Korean cinema and the storytelling techniques of the animated Studio Ghibli films. Further developing my skills, I wish to explore alternative equipment set-ups and lighting techniques as to create visual interest telling the story through the camera.

As this is the final film I would be making as part of university I wanted to create a film that was mysterious, intriguing and a showcase of everyone's skills to make a complete and impressive film. Inspired by the familiarity of Studio Ghibli films I wanted to lean into the fantasy element of "another world within our own" and prove to myself that I have the skills to make a film I am proud of and is engaging to others.
